Played it recently due to the incoming DD:Awakened and frankly, it was a good fun. While combat left something to be desired, the general gameplay flow felt really great. I have partially played with friends and partially solo, mostly the latter, more endgame part - and even then it was enjoyable, though after 20h you will run out of reasonable things to do, being forced to grind for specific items/pets. Still, can easily recommend on a sale - playing with friends will be as fun as you expect.
